PART – 2 CHAPTER 01 ACCOUNTING FOR SHARE CAPITAL

Question 1 What is public company?

Answer:

The company which are not the private companies and is different with them in various respects is known as a public company. The public companies can thus issue the share to the general public and there are no restrictions as far as the transfer of shares is concerned. The value of the public company is determined through the daily trading of its shares. The public company uses the word 'limited' at the end of its name.

Question 2 What is private company?

Answer:

The business entity which is not owned by the non-governmental organisations and which comprises of few numbers of shareholders and thus they can no sell or purchase the share of the concerned company is public company A private company is a business entity that is owned by non-governmental organizations or by a relatively smaller number of shareholders or members who do not sell purchase its shares to the general public on the stock market. Instead, the company's shares are owned, offered, exchanged and traded privately. The total number of members is restricted to a maximum of 200 in the case of a private company. It has to incorporate the word "private limited" at the end of its name.

Question3 When can share be forfeited?

Answer:

The forfeiture of shares occurs when the shareholders of any company fails to pay the amount of call money when it is demanded by any company. The forfeiture of shares thus amount to the cancellation of the membership of the concerned shareholder in the company.

Question 4 What is meant by Call in Arrears?

Answer:

Calls in Arrears occur when the shareholders fail to pay the amount of the sum of the allotment and the call money and it thus becomes due. Any company which issues shares may decide to consider the payment of the amount against the full the price or else may decide to consider it on the basis of the allotment and the call money. The shareholders in the latter cases have to pay the amount of the sum in exchange of the allotment made to them. In the cases when the shareholders fail to pay the amount of the sum as and when it become due, the amount is considered to be the calls in arrears.

Question 5 What do you mean by a listed company?

Answer:

Listed company refers to the company which is listed and recognised by the National Stock Exchange or the Bombay Stock Exchange. In other words when the stock exchange of the country recognises the existence of the company, it is known to be listed. The listed companies have the responsibility to adhere to the requirements of the stock exchange.

Question 6 What are the uses of securities premium?

Answer:

The uses of the securities premium are as follows:

- 1. To write off the preliminary expense.
- 2. To write off the expenses such as commission, or discount allowed on the issue of shares and debentures.
- 3. To issue fully paid up bonus shares
- 4. To provide premium payable on the redemption of preference shares and debentures
- 5. To buyback the share owned by us.

Question 7 What is meant by Calls in Advance?

Answer:

During the time of the call of the shares by the company, the shareholders pay the whole or he part of the sum called by the company in advance, i.e. before even when the company calls for the amount. This amount is liability for the company and such amount has to be adjusted towards the payment of the call as and when they become due. For example: A company has made a breakup of Rs. 100 per share in the following manner: Rs. 50 (On Application), Rs. 20 (On Allotment) and Rs. 30 (On 1st Call). A person may pay more than Rs. 50 during the time of the application or the allotment which results in the deposition of the additional amount in the company which is recorded as the calls in advance in the books of the account.

Question 8 Write a brief note on "Minimum Subscription".

Answer:

The 'Minimum Subscription' refers to the minimum amount of issue which must be subscribed on the date of the closure by the public. The Security Exchange Board of India guidelines suggest that minimum subscription of the share must be 90% of the size of the issue. In the case when the public fails top achieve the amount of minimum subscription than the shares by the company cannot be issued and they have to repay the money called on the application.

What is meant by the word 'Company'? Describe its characteristics.

Answer:

A company is referred to as the legal entity which is created under the due procedure of law and has its own spate legal existence under the common seal and with the perpetual succession.

The characteristics of the company are as follows:

1. Artificial Person which is created by Law:

A company is also known as the artificial person which is created by the law. Thus it enjoys all the right of the natural person.

2. Separate Legal Entity:

A company is considered to be an artificial person. It is a legal entity which has separate and distinct identity than its members. Thus the company being the separate legal entity has its own name and seal. The assets and the liabilities of the company are distinct and separate than its members.

3. Perpetual Succession:

The perpetual succession of the company infers that the company is not related to the life of its members and it is created by the law and thus can be dissolved by the law only. Hence the existence of the company is unaffected by the death of any of its member, or the insolvency of any of the member or the transfer of the shares of its members.

4. Common Seal:

Company being a legal entity having its separate and distinct identity has a common seal which acts as the signature of the company.

5. Limited Liability:

The Limited liability feature of the company is important for any company as it provides the security of the company when anything goes wrong in the company. If anything goes wrong with the company, the risk is only to the extent of the number of his shares and nothing more. Thus it is a condition in which the shareholders of the company are liable to the company for their part of share only.

6. Transferability of Shares:

The transferability of the shares infers that the shares can be transferred to another member with or without the consent of the members of the company. There can be certain limitations put upon this feature of the shares under the Articles of Association. The private companies on the other hand have more limitations than the public companies when it comes to the transfer of the shares. But it is however important to note that the transferability of shares cannot be repealed and stopped and it is done in some or the other manner.

Question 10

Explain in brief the main categories in which the share capital of a company is divided.

Answer:

The main categories in which the share capital of the company is divided are as follows:

1. Authorised Capital:

It is referred to amount which is stated under the Memorandum of Association. The authorised capital is the maximum amount which any company can raise by issuing the shares. This amount is laid down by the procedures which are stated in the Company Act.

2. Issued capital:

It is referred to as the amount which is a part of authorised capital and is offered to the general public by the company in order to achieve subscription.

3. Subscribed capital:

It is the part of the issued capital for which the applications are received from the public and hence the subscriptions are made.

4. Unissued Capital:

It is the amount under the authorised capital which is not issued by the company but can be issued in the future to the general public

5. Unsubscribed Capital:

The unsubscribed capital is the part of the issued capital which is no subscribed by the public.

6. Called up capital:

It is referred to as the part of the subscribed capital which is called by the company to pay.

7. Paid up capital:

It is the part of the subscribed capital which is paid up by the shareholders.

8. Uncalled up Capital:

Uncalled up capital is the part of the subscribed capital which is not called in the routine course of the business but which may be called as the need for the winding of the company arise.

9. Reserved capital

Any limited company may call up any proportion of the share capital which is uncalled in the cases when the company has to wind and pay its creditors. Thus, the amount of the uncalled capital is reserved in order to pay back the creditors and hence this amount is not used by the company to meet any another purpose. Thus, the proportion of such the amount which is reserved is known as the reserve capital.

Question 11

What do you mean by the term 'share'? Discuss the types of shares, which can be issued under the Companies Act, 2013 as amend to date.

Answer:

Share is referred to as the amount of the capital which is divided into the definite value units. The people who hold such shares are called as shareholders.

Any company issues two types of shares:

1. Preference Shares: Those shares in which the share holders have the preference over payment of the dividend or the repayment of the capital in the case when the company winds up. The dividend to such shareholders is paid at the fixed rate.

2. Equity Shares: The equity shares are the type of shares in which the shareholders have the right to participate in the profits of the organization after the claims of the preference shareholders are settled. The rate of dividend of such shareholders is not fixed and they vary from year to year. The shareholders have the right to vote and control the affairs of the business.

Question 12

Discuss the process for the allotment of shares of a company in case of over subscription.

Answer:

The oversubscription is referred to as the situation in which the company receives the excess of the application than called by the company. In case of the allotment of the shares, the allotments can be made in three cases:

i) In the case when the amount received on the excess of the application is returned back o the applicants after when they are refused.

Share Application A/cDr.

To Share Capital A/c

To Bank A/c

(Excess application money returned)

ii) In the case when the company allot the shares on the pro rata basis to all the applicants of shares. The excess of the amount which is received on the application of the shares is adjusted during the allotment. Share Application A/cDr.

To Share Capital A/c

To Share Allotment A/c

(Adjustment of application money on allotment)

iii) In the case when the companies follows the combination of both the refund of the money and the adjustment through pro rata basis on the excess of the amount received.

Share Application A/cDr.

To Share Capital A/c

To Share Allotment A/c

To Bank A/c

(Application money transferred to Share Capital Account and the balance amount is transferred to Share Allotment Account and the excess application money is refund)

Question 13

What is a 'Preference Share'? Describe the different types of preference shares.

Answer:

Preference Shares are referred to as the types of shares which get a preferential treatment over the equity shares when it comes to the payment of the dividend and the repayment of the capital in the case when the company will wind up itself. The preference shares entitle the owner to get the dividend at a fixed rate. Following are the types of preference shares:

- 1. Callable: The companies have the right to call back such shares at the certain price on any certain date.
- 2. Convertible: The preference shareholders have the option of converting their shares to the company's common stock at any conversion ratio.
- 3. Cumulative: The preference shareholders which have this type of shares have the right to receive the dividend on the shares even when the company does not have the financial resources for the same. The companies are thus liable for the payment of such dividend as the dividend gets accrued.
- 4. Non-cumulative: The preference share holders do not pise the liability upon the company to pay the dividen in the future years if they fail to pay the scheduled dividend to them.
- 5. Participating: This is the type of preference share in which the company is required to pay the increasing amount of dividend if there is the participation clause for the same in the share agreement.

Describe the provisions of laws relating to 'Calls in Arrears' and 'Calls in Advance'

Answer:

Calls in Arrears: The calls in arrears occur when the shareholder fails to pay the sum of the allotment and the call money when it is due. The rate of interest on call in arrears is 10% and this will have to be paid for the period from the fixed date of the payment to the time of the actual payment.

Calls in Advance: The calls in advance happen in the situation in which the shareholders pay the amount wholly or partly when the call was not yet demanded from the company. This amount is the liability for the company and the rate of interest on the calls in advance is 12% per annum.

Question 15

Explain the terms 'Over subscription' and 'Under subscription'. How are they dealt with in accounting records?

Answer:

Over subscription: The situation of oversubscription occurs when the company issues more number of shares than offered by the company. In the case of the oversubscription of the shares the company can opt for any of the three situations:

i) In the case when the amount received on the excess of the application is returned back o the applicants after when they are refused.

Share Application A/c Dr.
To Share Capital A/c
To Bank A/c
(Excess application money returned)

ii) In the case when the company allot the shares on the pro rata basis to all the applicants of shares. The excess of the amount which is received on the application of the shares is adjusted during the allotment.

Share Application A/c Dr.

To Share Capital A/c

To Share Allotment A/c

(Adjustment of application money on allotment)

iii) In the case when the companies follows the combination of both the refund of the money and the adjustment through pro rata basis on the excess of the amount received.

Share Application A/c Dr.
To Share Capital A/c
To Share Allotment A/c
To Bank A/c
(Application money transferred to Share Capital
Account and the balance amount is transferred to Share Allotment Account and the excess application money is refund)

Under subscription: Under subscription of the shares is the case in which the application for the shares is less than the shares issued by the company. For instance, a company issued 1,000 shares to the public and the company received applications for 900 shares only from the public. This situation is called under-subscription.

In such cases the allotment of the shares to the numbers of people who have subscribed for it which is 900 shares. It is thus important to note that any company cannot be allowed to make the allotment of the shares if the minimum subscription is below than at least 90%. In such cases the company is not allowed to allot the shares and they will be required to pay back the money they have received from the applicants.

Question 16 Describe the purposes for which a company can use the amount of Securities Premium.

Answer:

The purposes for which the company may use the amount of the securities premium wholly or in part are as follows:

- It order to issue the fully paid bonus shares of the company.
- It order to write off the preliminary expenses of the company.
- It order to write off the expenses such as discount allowed, commission paid on the issue of any shares or debentures.
- In order to purchase its own shares this is also termed as Buy Back.
- It order to provide the premiums payable upon the redemption of the preference shares or debentures.

State clearly the conditions under which a company can issue shares at a discount.

Answer:

The issue of shares at discount means that any company is issuing the share at the price which is lower than the face value of the share. For example: If a share of Rs 1000 is issued at Rs 850, then Rs 150 (i.e. Rs 1000-850) is the amount of discount.

The conditions in which the shares are issued at discount are as follows:

- The rate of discount of shares should not exceed 10%.
- The shares must belong to a class which has already been issued by the company.
- The discount must be provided when at least one year from the date of which the company was allowed to commence its business has passed.
- The issue of such discount is sanctioned by the Company Law Board and is authorized by the passing of the resolution passed by the company in their general meeting.
- The court may allow the issue of such shares within the two months of the sanction by the court or within the extended time as allowed by the court.

Explain the term 'Forfeiture of Shares' and give the accounting treatment on the forfeiture.

Answer:

The forfeiture of shares happens when at the time of the allotment of the shares they fail to pay money and further fail to pay the subsequent amount of the call money by the company concerned demanded by the company. The shareholders are liable to pay the amount of the allotment money and the amount of the call when it is called by the company. Hence the failure of the payment of such amount makes the companies to forfeit the shares of such shareholders.

The Accounting Treatment for Forfeiture is given below:

Share capital A/c DR

To Share Forfeiture A/c

To Share Allotment/Call A/c

(Being Shares forfeited for non-payment)

Eastern Company Limited, having an authorized capital of Rs 10,00,000 in shares of Rs 10 each, issued 50,000 shares at a premium of Rs 3 per share payable as follows:

On Application Rs 3 per share

On Allotment (including premium) Rs 5 per share

On first call (due three months after allotment) and the balance as and when required.

Rs 3 per share

Applications were received for 60,000 shares and the directors allotted the shares as follows:

- (a) Applicants for 40,000 shares received shares, in full.
- (b) Applicants for 15,000 shares received an allotment of 8,000 shares.
- (c) Applicants for 500 shares received 200 shares on allotment, excess money being returned.

All amounts due on allotment were received.

The first call was duly made and the money was received with the exception of the call due on 100 shares.

Give journal and cash book entries to record these transactions of the company. Also prepare the Balance Sheet of the company.

Answer:

Note: In order to solve this question, applicant of category C has been assumed as 5000 instead of 500 and allotment to the applicant of this category has been taken as 2000 in place of 200.

Question 33

Himalaya Company Limited issued for public subscription of 1,20,000 equity shares of Rs 10 each at a premium of Rs 2 per share payable as under:

| With Application | Rs 3 per share |
|----------------------------------|----------------|
| On allotment (including premium) | Rs 5 per share |
| On First call | Rs 2 per share |
| On Second and Final call | Rs 2 per share |

Applications were received for 1,60,000 shares. Allotment was made on pro-rata basis. Excess money on application was adjusted against the amount due on allotment. Rohan, whom 4,800 shares were allotted, failed to pay for the two calls. These shares were subsequently forfeited after the second call was made. All the shares forfeited were reissued to Teena as fully paid at Rs 7 per share.

Record journal entries in the books of the company to record these transactions relating to share capital. Also show the company's balance sheet.

Question 34

Prince Limited issued a prospectus inviting applications for 2,00,000 equity shares of Rs 10 each at a premium of Rs 3 per share payable as follows:

| 1With Application | Rs 2 |
|----------------------------------|------|
| On Allotment (including premium) | Rs 5 |
| On First Call | Rs 3 |
| On Second Call | Rs 3 |

Applications were received for 30,000 shares and allotment was made on pro-rata basis. Money overpaid on applications was adjusted to the amount due on allotment.

Mr. 'Mohit' whom 400 shares were allotted, failed to pay the allotment money and the first call, and her shares were forfeited after the first call. Mr. 'Joly', whom 600 shares were allotted, failed to pay for the two calls and hence, his shares were forfeited.

Of the shares forfeited, 800 shares were reissued to Supriya as fully paid for Rs 9 per share, the whole of Mr. Mohit's shares being included.

Record journal entries in the books of the Company and prepare the Balance Sheet.

Question 37

Alfa Limited invited applications for 4,00,000 of its equity shares of Rs 10 each on the following terms:

Payable on application Rs 5 per share

Payable on allotment Rs 3 per share

Payable on first and final call

Rs 2 per share

Applications for 5,00,000 shares were received. It was decided:

- (a) to refuse allotment to the applicants for 20,000 shares.
- (b) to allot in full to applicants for 80,000 shares.
- (c) to allot the balance of the available shares' pro-rata among the other applicants, and
- (d) to utilise excess application money in part as payment of allotment money.

One applicant, whom shares had been allotted on prorata basis, did not pay the amount due on allotment and on the call, and his 400 shares were forfeited. The shares were reissued @ Rs 9 per share. Show the journal and prepare Cash book to record the above.

Balance in Share Forfeiture Account (12000 - 800 - 6400)= Rs.4800

For 400 Shares

| Share Forfeiture | Rs.12 per |

Amount of 400 shares transferred to Capital Reserve Account, after reissue = 400 shares @ Rs.10 per share = Rs.4000

For 200 Shares

Amount of 200 shares transferred to Capital Reserve Account, after reissue = 200 shares @ Rs.12 per share = Rs.2400

Total amount transferred to Capital Reserve Account for 600 shares = Capital Reserve for 200 shares + Capital Reserve for 200 shares = 4000 + 2400 = Rs.6400

Question 39

Amit holds 100 shares of Rs 10 each on which he has paid Re.1 per share as application money. Bimal holds 200 shares of Rs 10 each on which he has paid Re.1 and Rs 2 per share as application and allotment money, respectively. Chetan holds 300 shares of Rs 10 each and has paid Re.1 on application, Rs 2 on allotment and Rs 3 for the first call. They all fail to pay their arrears and the second call of Rs 2 per share and the directors, therefore, forfeited their shares. The shares are reissued subsequently for Rs 11 per share as fully paid.
