

A (Printed Pages 7)
(20222) Roll No.
B.Sc.Ag (HONS)-I Sem.

11269(CV-III)

B.Sc. Ag (Hons.) Examination, Dec.-2021

COMPREHENSION AND COMMUNICATION

SKILLS IN ENGLISH

(AG-108)

(New Course)

~~Time : 1 1/2 Hours~~ /Maximum Marks : 50

Note : Attempt questions from all Sections as directed.

Section-A

(Very Short Answer Questions)

Note : Attempt any two questions.

1. Do as directed:
(A) Give antonym of the word "virtue".
(B) Give synonym of the word "correct".

(C) The word "tablet" having two meanings viz. (1) pill (2) electronic device, is an instance of

2. Do as directed:
(A) postman's little boy says that he'd rather be dentist than serve in Army. (supply appropriate articles)
(B) He got job in south and spent many years there. (supply appropriate articles)
(C) ~~If you~~ aren't going to live in the house why you (not sell) it? (Put the verbs in brackets in correct forms).
3. Change the voice of the following sentences.
(A) They didn't pay me for the work; they expected me to do it for nothing.
(B) He escaped when they were moving him.
(C) The roar of the traffic will keep residents awake all night.

11269(CV-III)/2

P.T.O.

4. Supply appropriate prepositions.
- (A) They succeeded escaping the burning house.
- (B) I am not interested anything that happened the very remote past.
- (C) There is no point going car if we can't park near the theatre.

5. Put the following sentences into indirect narration. <https://www.cesustudy.com>

- (A) "I wasn't paid for the work," complained his friend.
- (b) "I left my book at home." Ram said to me.
- (C) The commander said to the sergeant, "Bring me a new rifle."

Section-B

(Short Answer Questions)

Note : Attempt any one of the following three questions in about 200 words each.

10×1=10

11269(CV-III)/3

P.T.O.

6. Write a paragraph on any one of the following topics.
- (A) A stitch in time saves nine
- (B) If I were the president of India
- (C) Digital India
7. Write an application for the post of Lecturer in Dairy Science in a college. Give a relevant CV also.
8. Dwell upon the points you would keep in mind during an interview.

Section-C

(Long Answer Type Questions)

Note : Attempt any two out of the following five questions. 15×2=30

9. Write an essay on prose style of Orwell.
10. Discuss the uses and abuses of Science as discussed by Fosdick.

11269(CV-III)/4

11. Comment on the advantages of speaking well according to Shaw.
12. Write a report on the visit of your class to G. B. Pant University of Agriculture, Pantnagar.
13. Make a précis of the following passage in one third of the original length.

Most of all I should need a set of professors. I would only need a dozen of them, but they would have to be real ones; disinterested men of learning, who did not even know they were disinterested. And, mind you, these professors of mine would not sit in 'offices' dictating letters or 'cases' to stenographers, and only leaving their offices to go to 'committees' and 'conferences'. There would be no 'office' in my college and no 'committees', and professors would have no time for conferences because the job they were never be finished.

My professors would never be findable at any fixed place except when they are actually giving lectures. Men of thought have no business in an office. Learning runs away from 'committees'. There would be no 'check up' on the time of the professors; there would be no 'hire and fire' or 'judge by results' or standards or norms of work for them, nor any fixed number of hours.

But on the other hand, they would, if I got the ones I want, be well worth their apparent irresponsibility; and when they lectured, each one would be though he would not know it, a magician — with such an interest and absorption that those who listened would catch the to the library, still warm with thought.

It must be understood that the work of a professor is peculiar. Few professors, real ones, ever complete their work; and what they give to the world is fragments. The rest remains. Their contribution must be added up, not measured singly. Every professor has his 'life' work, who sometimes does it, and sometimes dies first. (288)